DG'S NOTE

Writing of Annual Report is a statutory requirement for the Academy. It needs no emphasis that an annual report is the basic document that reflects the activities, course of action, standard of performance, level of productivity both in terms of quality and quantity and a glance of future planning of some institution. The Academy is no exception to this reality. Hence, this annual report is not just a bunch of mere information about the academic activities of the Academy, but also mirrors why and how it has designed its activities, and with what objectives and for which outcomes. Of great significance is the clarity of direction in which the Academy seems to have been steered in the year under report and the direction set out for the next year. In this perspective, our Annual Report, 2017, is being presented.

The Preface of Mr. Muhammad Masood Khan, the then Director General (DG) reflects what the Academy has achieved in 2017. Afterwards, when the present team took over early this year, it started devising a full-scale Strategic Plan with the intention to place it before the Board of Governors in its next meeting. The reason to mention the Plan for the year 2018 and onward is the setting out of intended destination for the Academy. It, nonetheless, remains a fact that, despite all our efforts, much depends on the leadership—the worthy Chairman and the leaned Vice-Chairman—as leading members of Board of Governors. Under their leadership, the Academy would be able to convert all the present challenges to opportunities. I hope the report will help the reader know about the past activities and the future planning of the Academy.

30 March, 2018

Dr. Khurshid Iqbal,
Director General

PREFACE

The report that you have in your hands today is a brief summary of all that happened in KPJA in the year 2017. When I was given the task at the beginning of the year I had no experience of running a training institute. The inception training of civil judges was already underway. All the experienced Directors had been posted out and I had to fight to keep the dean in the academy to keep my sanity and some continuity with the past. What unfolded in the next year was a trail of tribulations, hard toil and constant criticism both self and external. It was hard labour but a labour of love nevertheless. We made mistakes, but learnt from our mistakes, we made consistent efforts to better ourselves. The report reflects the achievements of holding the highest number of courses in the brief existence of the academy, training the highest number of participants, saving the highest amount of money for the academy's fund. But all these are numbers and do not reflect the joy of the fruits that toil begets; the satisfaction that comes from a sense of achievement. In this brief period we were able to draft new laws that were adopted and notified, we were able to support the High Court with studies that were practically translatable into action, creating programmes and above all generating controversies, initiating debates that keep the engine of reforms going. I must appreciate and acknowledge the efforts of the small team that kept all this going. Khwaja Wajihuddin, the dean who did not appreciate anything we did and thus kept us striving for more. Mohammad Asif the administrator who was unaware of the word impossible. Shiraz Noor Sani, who was the lead on our daily catharsis sessions, Hajra rehman and Ayesha Rasool the two ladies who brought more colour to an already colourful Academy. The staff of the academy who kept long hours and worked beyond the call of duty without any complaints. I have reserved for the last a special mention for Zia ur Rahman, the academic director whose intellectual abilities, organisational capabilities and deep understanding of issues involved, kept the team into a well gelled machine that was able to deliver against impossible odds.

Mr. Muhammad Masood Khan
Former Director General
